

The Mission of the Snohomish County Food Bank Coalition is to work together to provide resources to the Snohomish County Community. Through public funding, private contributions and community donations, the Food Bank Members will provide healthy food and resources to the people of Snohomish County.

Individually, every food bank strives to offer good, wholesome, healthy options to the families we serve. That goal takes planning, resources and partnerships. Through local grocery stores, regional distributors and our neighboring farmers, these goals are more attainable.

We support the Rooted Northwest Farm project and endorse their efforts to bring more food crops to our County. We need to encourage and expand opportunities for new generations of farmers and hope to partner with Rooted Northwest in the future for food security projects that support our mission.
